This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

ONE WORD-DESCRIPTIONS CHANCY, BUT —

Dear Helen: If you had just ONE word to describe the present "now" generation — those under 25 — what would it be? And what's your one-worder for us oldsters over the hill at 30-plus? — ASKER OF IMPOSSIBLE QUESTIONS

Dear Asker: You named yourself right! But I'll take a crack at it:

One word description of the Under-25 Generation? I'd call them "QUESTIONERS." They're taking long hard looks at every area of our lives and asking, "Why must things be this way?" "How can we change them for the better?" Let's hope they follow through on that last question (and I think they will) before they hunker down in stolid, uncaring middle age!

The word for "over-30 oldsters"? How about "PARANOID?" This doesn't apply to all of us, thank goodness, but a sizeable number are downright hand-wringers. They're fearful of the temptations their children face — they're even afraid of their children! They're scared to go out on the streets at night; they don't trust their neighbors or the repairman, or the government, or even their psychiatrists. They resist change, and are affronted by the QUESTIONERS who demand it. They're often afraid to say what they think because they might tread on the toes of someone who can hurt them!

Now, all of us aren't paranoid about ALL these things, but few of us can truthfully say we aren't slowed down by certain fear hang-ups. And many just plain aren't necessary, if we'd dissect and examine them — and thus pare them down to size. — H.

Dear Helen: It's a free country, true, but don't you think we can overdo the bickering over little things? I mean the moon-flyers' earthy comments. They said what they felt like saying, and I thought it was very human. Yet some people were so shocked they are still writing letters to the editor about how our astronauts should "think of their position and their influence on the young." Now what young person old enough to watch a space flight hasn't heard "son of a bitch," and that other descriptive phrase?

Another thing: I understand certain anti-religious people stirred up such a snit that the astronauts are no longer allowed to quote scriptures to describe the grandeur of outer space. (NOTE FROM H: Check again, I doubt this.)

Must we be so "little" when we're accomplishing something so BIG? — DISGUSTED.

Dear Helen: As I've said many, many times before, only a few are this "picky." Because their comments cause controversy, they make the headlines. — H.

Dear Helen: My father was an alcoholic. Now I am married to a man who thinks there's nothing wrong in drinking and swears he'll always remain a "social drinker."

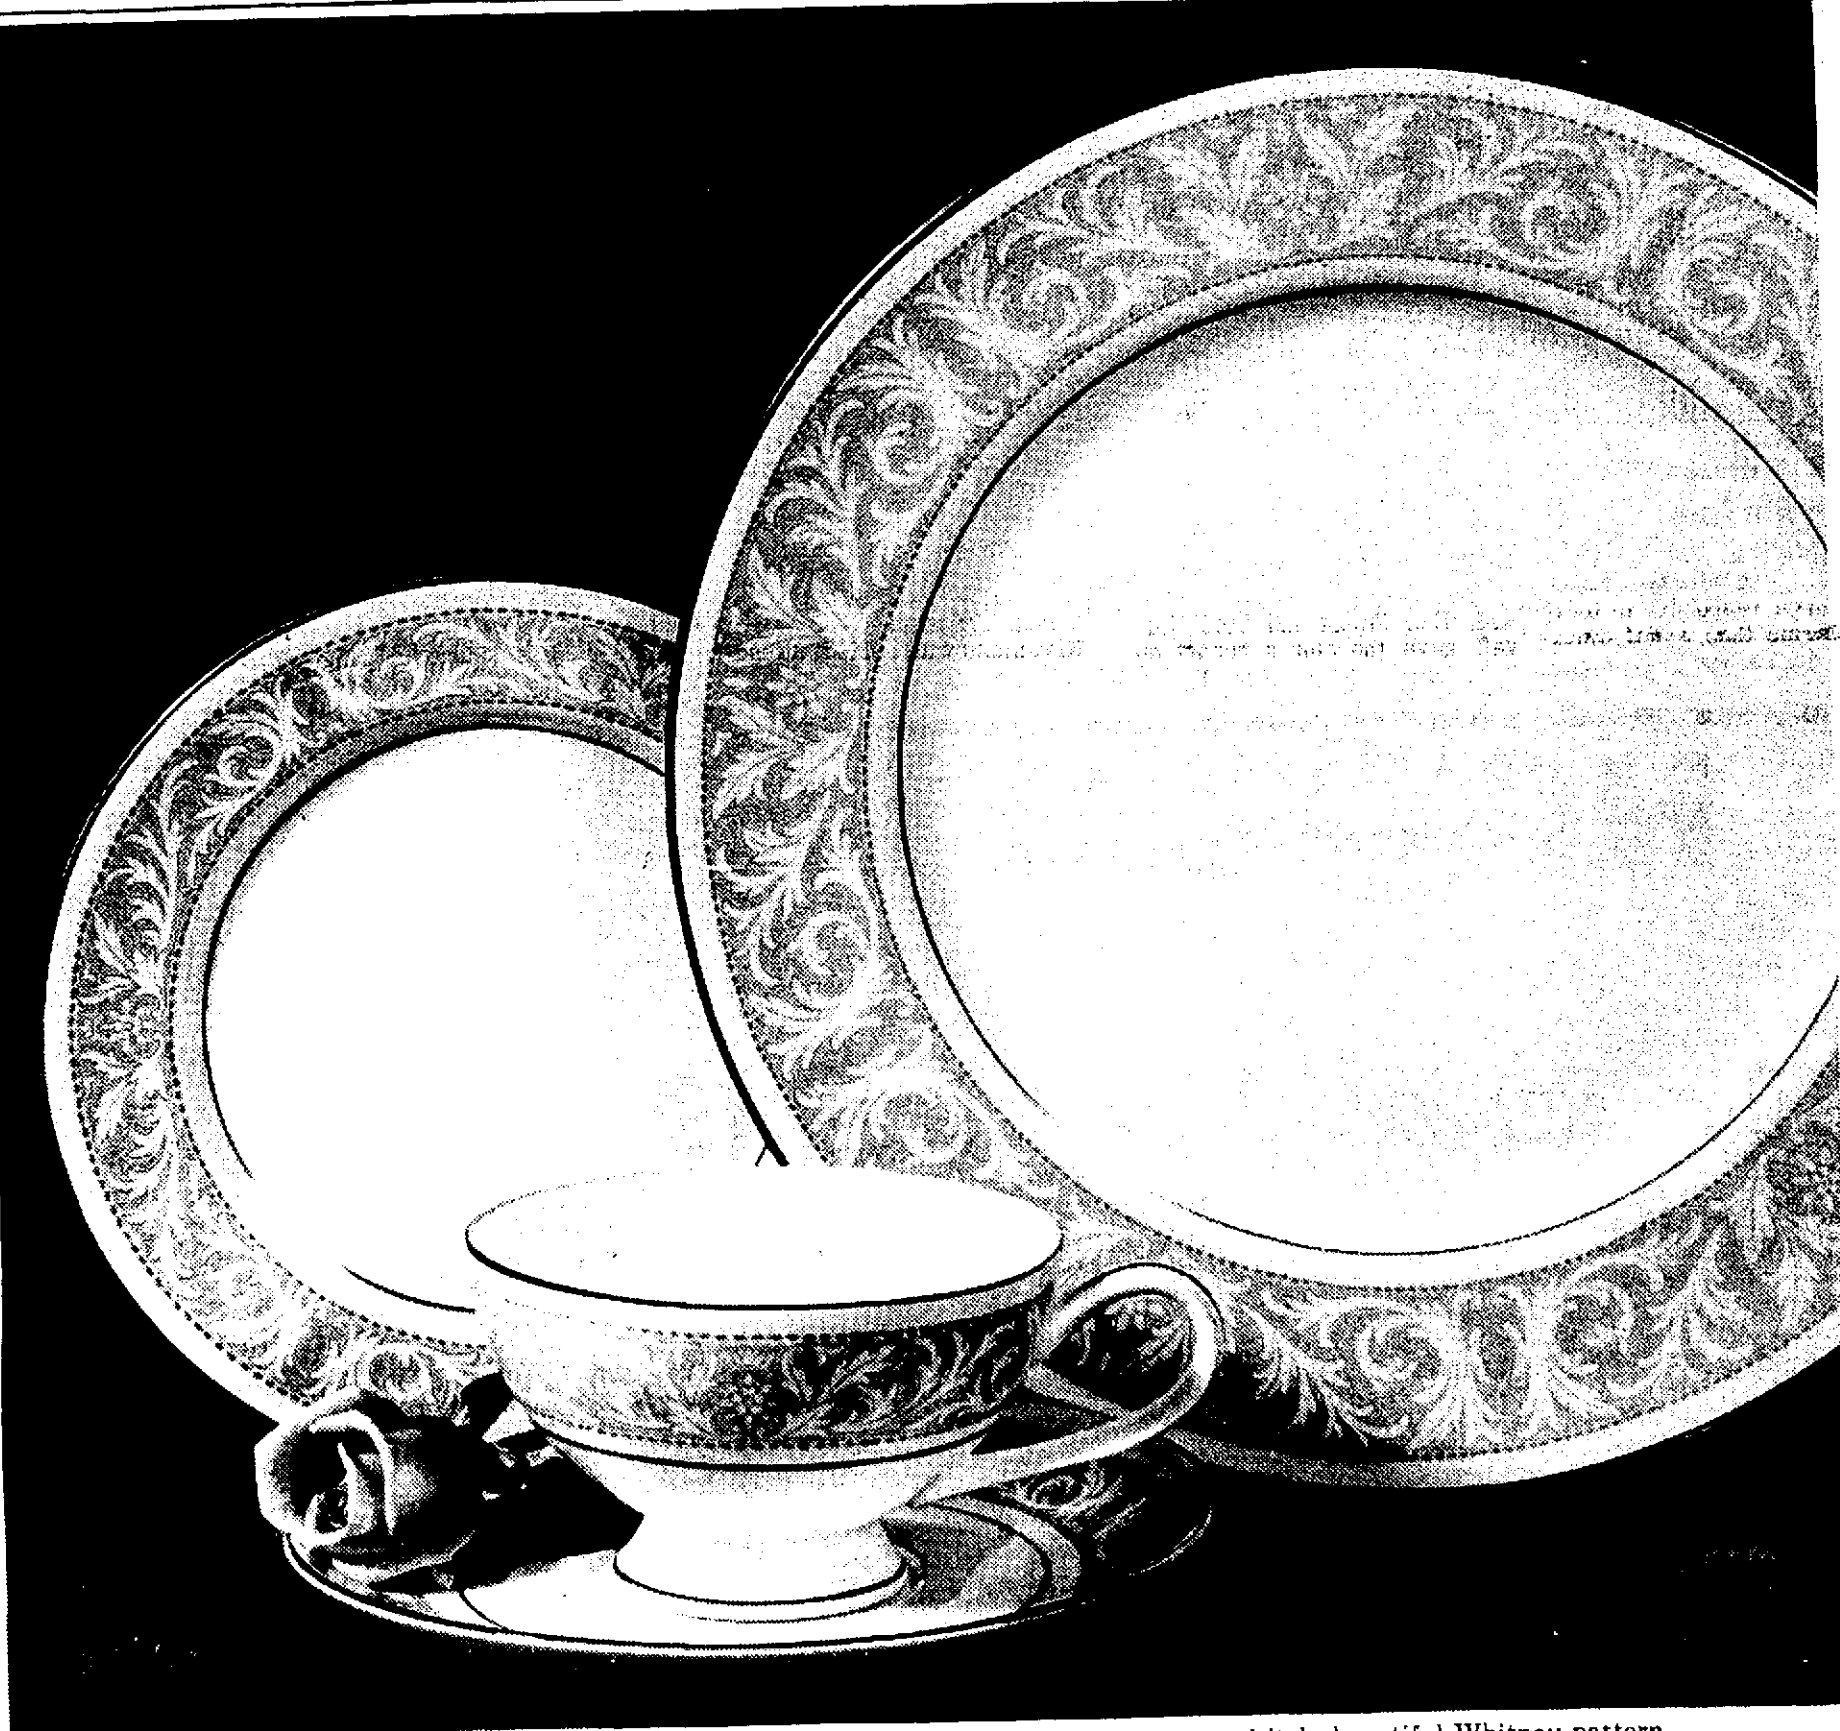

After a big argument, he called me from a bar and said he'd be home in a couple of hours. I know he is trying to punish me but how could he be so cruel? — FRIGHTENED

Dear Frightened: How can you be so "paranoid"? All social drinkers don't become alcoholics any more than all cake-eaters become obese. Expect moderation, not abstinence from your husband, and I think he'll enjoy his before-dinner cocktail at home. — H.

Ant Preventative

The best preventive measure against ants is to keep a spotless kitchen. Ants are easily attracted by spilled sugar, crumbs or spatters of bacon grease. Trace the ants back to their hiding place probably a crack along your sink or baseboards — then set out an ant trap. Lured by the bait, the ants will carry it back as food and kill the entire colony.

Braves Are One Feeling the Pain

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers ache all over but the Atlanta Braves are the ones feeling the pain. Led by super-cripple Manny Mota, who banged out eight hits, one short of the major league record for most hits in a doubleheader, the Dodgers swept Atlanta 5-3 and 4-3 Tuesday night and took over first place in the National League West from the Braves by one-half game.

After rapping seven singles and a double in 10 at-bats, driving in three runs, scoring twice and stealing a base, Mota limped into the clubhouse, where his left elbow and left knee were packed in ice.

Mota broke the elbow playing winter ball in the Dominican Republic and injured the knee sliding a few days ago. The elbow probably will require post-season surgery, but the injuries didn't stop the 5-foot-11, 168-pound outfielder from raising his average since coming to the Dodgers from Montreal to .412 and his over-all mark to .366.

Elsewhere, the New York Mets rallied to nip Chicago 4-3 and trimmed the Cubs' lead in the East to four games. Cincinnati whipped San Diego 6-2, San Francisco turned back Houston 7-4, St. Louis downed Philadelphia 6-3 and Pittsburgh walloped Montreal 8-2.

In the American League, Minnesota edged Kansas City 4-3, Oakland beat the Chicago White Sox 2-1 in the opener but dropped the nightcap 5-2, Baltimore swept the New York Yankees 10-3 and 4-1, Boston stopped Detroit 4-1, Cleveland outlasted Washington 6-5 and Seattle defeated California 3-1.

Mota's big night began with an infield hit in the first inning of the opener, after Hank Aaron had put the Braves ahead 1-0 with his 23rd home run and 533rd hit of his career. Willie Davis singled Mota to third and they both scored when Orlando Cepeda threw wildly to second trying to trap Davis in a rundown.

In the third inning, Mota singled and was out trying for a double. In the fourth, he doubled a run home and was out trying for third. In the sixth he got a harmless single and he filled out in the eighth.

Mota singled in the first inning of the second game and stole second, but was stranded. He wasted a single in the third and grounded out in the sixth, one of 14 straight batters retired by Ron Reed.

But Maury Wills broke the spell in the eighth with a two-out triple and Mota singled him in, cutting Atlanta's lead to 2-1. Mota then scored the tying run on singles by Davis and Len Gabrielson.

The Braves went ahead 3-2 in the ninth on Rico Carty's pinch double, but Tom Haller, who homered in the first game, started another rally with a leadoff double in the Dodgers' half. A single by Bill Sudakis knotted the score again and, after a single by Willie Crawford, the Braves elected to walk Wills intentionally and pitch to Mota. He promptly singled, scoring Sudakis with the winning run.

Davis, who was hit on the wrist by a pitch Sunday and had trouble squeezing the bat, collected three singles and a triple; Haller, who has two swollen ankles after being hit by foul balls, had a single, double and home run, and Wes Parker, still bothered by a persistent hamstring pull, singled in a first-game run.

"Sometimes when you think you're really crippled and don't have a chance, that's when you

Thinks Casper and Player Best Bets

By TOM REEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer
SYTHAM STM ANNES, England (AP) — Peter Thomson, the only living man to win the British Open five times, conceded today that the American challenge for the 1969 title is so deep and so tough that any one of a dozen could win it.

But the 29-year-old Australian refused to admit that he was what the bookies said, a 20-1 outsider.

"If I get the breaks and the inspiration, I'll manage," he said.

"But I fancy Bill Casper and Gary Player. They have the middle irons this course requires right now."

Thompson was asked why Casper and Player.

"They have the game and it spinning American circuit."

This was a part of the golf world Thomson never mastered and he admits it.

When he was at his peak, the U.S. tour was not all that rich and his only crack at it left him somewhat cool.

But, the Australian said, that same tour over the years has produced so many proficient golfers that the 13-strong American challenge this Championship starting today, hardly can be ignored.

Certainly the bookies haven't. They've made Player a 5 to 1 favorite to retain the crown he won at Carnoustie last year.

Casper and Jack Nicklaus were at 6 to 1 and from there on the there were nothing but American names until the long-odds types from Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Canada and Europe were registered up to 100 to 1.

Secrets to Success

by Frank Beard

Professional golfers, regardless of what you've heard, don't kid themselves. Personalities are fine. If fancy clothes are your thing, that's good, too. The main thing we're selling, however—and we know it—is not lavender pants or belly laughs. The thing we're selling is golf.

Most people who attend golf tournaments are golfers themselves. They come out to watch us strike the ball. And since every player on the tour does at least one thing exceptionally well or he wouldn't be out here, that makes him worth watching.

George Archer, for example, is an excellent putter. Gary Player is known as probably the best fairway wood player in the game. Jack Nicklaus is a fine driver. And nobody on the tour strikes the ball any better than Billy Casper.

In our next 14 installments, we will take a look at how some of the better-known tour pros excel in certain aspects of golf.

get hot," said manager Walter Alston. "It's nice to be back in first place."

It was Atlanta's sixth defeat in eight games, all coming in doubleheaders last Friday, Sunday and Tuesday night.

Lolich's Streak Is Ended at 9

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
When Mickey Lolich wandered of on the wrong side of Boston again, young Mike Nagy wasn't about to show him the right way back.

Nagy, Boston's 21-year-old pitching prodigy, ended Lolich's string of nine consecutive victories Tuesday night with a 4-1 three-hit triumph over Detroit. The Red Sox's right-hander also drove in the first two runs of his brief major league career with a second inning single after Lolich loaded the bases on three straight walks.

"He had walked a few, and I didn't want to let him off the hook," Nagy said after reeling off his fifth victory in six decisions. "They never let me off the hook when I walk a few."

Lolich, 11-2, had been beaten just once by the Red Sox 5-4 on April 25 in 19 previous verdicts, three of them in the 1968 World Series, since last Sept. 9.

The victory sent the Red Sox back into second place in the American League East — one half game ahead of the Tigers — but they lost half a game to Baltimore's runaway Orioles, who swept a two-night doubleheader from New York 10-3 and 4-1.

Elsewhere, Chicago shackled Oakland slugger Reggie Jackson in a doubleheader split with cap 5-2 after a 2-1 loss; Cleveland pitched around big Frank Howard and nipped Washington 6-3; Cesar Tovar's first 1969 homer got Minnesota past Kansas City 4-3 and Seattle beat Philadelphia 3-1 on Don Mincher's three-run blast.

In National League play, Los Angeles took a pair from Atlanta 5-3 and 4-3; the New York Mets edged the Chicago Cubs 4-3; San Francisco downed Houston 7-4; St. Louis topped Philadelphia 6-3; Pittsburgh trounced Montreal 8-1 and Cincinnati socked San Diego 8-2.

Nagy was tagged for a first inning double by Tom Tresh, then held the Tigers hitless until the eighth, when Dick McAuliffe singled. A hit batsman, Jim Northrup's double and a ground out produced Detroit's lone run in the ninth.

Lolich walked Tony Conigliaro, George Scott and Russ Gibson in the second before Nagy's single to right put Boston ahead to stay. Gibson's bases-loaded single in the third gave the Red Sox a pair of insurance runs.

The Orioles, who had lost four of their previous five stars, exploded for 10 runs — a club record — in the fourth inning of the opener. Right-hander Tom Phoebus then breezed to his eighth victory against two losses.

Boog Powell crashed a three-run homer and Frank Robinson and Dave Johnson each stroked two hits in the inning, enabling right-hander Tom Phoebus to coast home for an 8-2 mark. Mike Cuellar, 9-7, stopped the Yankees on three hits-all of them by rookie Ron Woods — in the second game as the Orioles moved 1½ lengths ahead of the pack.

Jackson, the majors' home run leader with 34, went hitless in six trips at Chicago, where the Athletics took the opener behind Jim "Catfish" Hunter and the White Sox rebounded on a bases-loaded triple by Tom McCraw.

Hunter scattered seven hits and struck out 10 as the A's snapped a four-game losing streak, but McCraw's sixth-inning shot keyed a four-run Chicago flurry that decided the nightcap.

Jackson, whose errant throw in the third inning of the nightcap hit teammate Danny Cater in the back of the neck, knocking him out of the game, has gone 5-for-30, with only one homer against the White Sox this year.

"I don't think they're doing anything special," A's Manager Hank Bauer said. "He runs hot and cold, and right now he's cold."

Cleveland pitchers walked Howard, who smacked his 31st and 32nd homers Monday night against the Indians, twice intentionally once with the bases empty and a third time semi-intentionally.

The Gentle Giant still managed to deliver one run with a sacrifice fly, but the Indians came from behind to win with a three-run seventh-inning rally climaxed by Ken Harrelson's 13th homer.

Tovar hit a two-run homer in the eighth for Minnesota giving the Twins their fifth straight victory for a 3½ game West Division lead over Oakland. The bantam infielder had tied the game in the seventh, cracking a

Argentine Player Leads British Open

By TOM REEDY

Associated Press Sports Writer
LYTHAM ST. ANNES, England (AP) — Roberto de Vicenzo, the unpredictable but always dangerous Argentine, shot a three-under-par 32 to seize the early lead over a star-studded field in the first round of the 1969 British Open Golf Championship today.

Roberto, the 1967 Open king, rammed in four birdies but took an expensive bogey 6 in his brilliant opening salvo.

Having complained that his 40-year-old legs are becoming untrustworthy and "I no putt so good," the gay Latin promptly belied both contentions.

He had six 3s in nine holes in Lytham's 6,848-yard par 71 seaside links.

Overnight rain freshened the course, which had been getting more dry by the day, and with only light wind blowing the field of 130 could scarcely complain about the conditions.

Max Faulkner, last Briton to win his national title and that was 18 years ago, scored an excellent 33 but most of the remainder of the early starters hovered around par figures.

Gardner Dickson, the veteran from Palm Beach, Fla., was in that bracket with an even par 35.

Lee Trevino, of Dallas, the 1968 U.S. Open champion, bettered par by one shot with a 34 with two birdies and a bogey.

Phil Castoffs Welcomed by Los Angeles

NEW YORK (AP) — Anybody who is unhappy with the scenery at Philadelphia appears to be welcome in the camp of the Los Angeles Rams.

George Allen's latest acquisition is Izzy Lang, a disenchanted Eagle who found himself running behind Tom Woodeshick third top ground gainer in the National Football League last year.

Lang, 26, is a sixth-year vet from Tennessee State who should add a little zing to the Rams' running game as insurance for fullback Les Josephson.

Hosephson, out all last year due to a damaged Achilles tendon, has been working out dally and claims he is running at full speed. He is among the early group of 48 due to report over the weekend at the California State, Fullerton, camp.

Bob Brown, the giant offensive tackle, led the parade West from Philadelphia shortly after the Eagles' front office was reshuffled.

Jim Seymour, Notre Dame split end, and Bob Klein, Southern California tight end, will miss two weeks because they must report to the College All Stars for the Aug. 1 game at Chicago against the New York Jets.

Larry Smith of Florida, the third first-round draft pick, will pass up the All-Star game because he is recovering from a foot injury suffered in a freak airplane loading ramp accident last March.

The Champ

Hank Stram

distance call from Dallas, a Mr. Hunt on the line.

"I was due in Chicago the next night for another banquet. Lamar said he'd get me to Dallas the next morning and out again in the afternoon so I'd make the Chicago date."

"When I got to his office, he was pleasant as always. We chatted for a couple of hours. But nothing about a coaching job. By now, it was getting pretty close to plane time. So I said, 'You know, Lamar, I have to leave in a few minutes. You must have brought me down here for something. Was it about a coaching job?'"

"Yes," he said after thinking it over awhile. "I had something like that in mind."

After which, Lamar Hunt promptly offered Hank Stram the position as head coach of the newly organized Dallas Texans (who ultimately shifted and became the Kansas City Chiefs).

Preparing to round out a decade of continuous service, Hank has had only one major change in his concept of the job.

"These days," he said, "there's no more regimentation in the handling of men. I remember you could ask a bunch of kids to do something by the numbers and not worry about them doing it. It was just like the Army."

"These days, if you want to get the most out of a guy, you got to give him individual treatment, and I teach my assistant coaches to handle the players like that, to know what the players are thinking, what their problems are, how they feel."

No generation gap's going to interrupt a good thing for Hank Stram.

It took between 14 and 16 years for the actual construction of the Washington Monument. However, 36 years elapsed between the laying of the cornerstone and the dedication because of the lack of funds.

Indians on Increase

The Indian population is increasing faster than the general population in the United States. More than 23,000 persons were counted as Indians in the 1960 census. The figure was 100,000 in the 1950 census.

Water Skiing Made Easy

By WILLIAM D. CLIFFORD
Executive Manager, American Water Ski Association

The two most common errors by beginning water skiers that usually lead to spills are (1) leaning too far forward after the skis have begun to move along the surface of the water, and (2) pulling in on the towline to take up imaginary slack. Usually the skier is not aware of leaning too much because he thinks that by rising with his legs, he has straightened his entire body. The remedy, of course, is to bring the head and shoulders up and back at the same time the legs are straightened. As for that "slack," it is nothing more than the lessening of the effect of the boat's pull as the water's "drag" on the skis diminishes. Remember to keep arms straight. Pulling in produces real slack—and an unnecessary dunking.

Vocational Schools Need Upgrading

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A research institute has recommended that the state build no new vocational-technical schools until the 12 existing facilities are upgraded.

The W. E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research of Washington says in a report that the manpower needs of industry were being "poorly met" by the present vocational-technical system in the state.

The report is part of a three-volume study prepared by the University of Arkansas Industrial Research and Extension Center at the request of the state Education Department.

The Upjohn Institute report recommended construction of no new schools until student capacities are expanded and a variety of programs are offered at the existing schools.

It also recommended that vocational-technical training be expanded greatly in the public school system, even into the lower grades; that training be more industry-oriented; that there be more local financial participation in vocational-technical programs and that a statewide system of vocational and technical education advisory councils and committees be established.

Samuel M. Burt of Washington, a former U.S. Labor Department official and a consultant for Upjohn, said a "flexible and viable" system of vocational and technical education should start with basic economic and industrial arts education in the lower secondary grades.

The Industrial Research and Extension Center recommended more participation by Negroes and more active recruiting of Negro students.

It also suggested remedial educational programs for adults and expansion of facilities.

Texarkana Votes Down Mixed Drinks

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—Texarkana Tuesday became the fourth Arkansas city to defeat the proposed public sale of mixed drinks in hotels, motels and restaurants.

Texarkana residents rejected the proposal on an unofficial vote of 738 for to 1,298 against.

West Memphis, Blytheville and Fort Smith previously had defeated the public sale of cocktails under a 1969 local option law.

A light turnout of Texarkana's 9,169 eligible voters had been expected. The issue had caused little controversy here.

Humphrey May Have Won by Airing Story

By HARRY KELLY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Could Hubert H. Humphrey have changed the course of the 1968 presidential campaign by disclosing information that a Richard M. Nixon supporter tried to sabotage preliminary Vietnam peace talks?

Author Theodore H. White speculates in his book "The Making of a President 1968" that Humphrey might have won the election if he had ballyhooed the story.

But William Connell, Humphrey chief political aide, doubts it and says he recommended against making the alleged intrigue a public issue.

"I thought we were on the way, anyway, and that we met get a backlash from it," says Connell.

White reports in his recently published book the Johnson Administration intercepted messages from Ann Chan Chen-nault, a Nixon supporter, undertaking to sabotage the Paris agreement preceding the U.S. bombing halt in and peace negotiations.

But, White reports, Humphrey refused to air the story despite urgings from some in his campaign staff.

When Nixon aides learned of the activities of the Chinese-born Mrs. Chennault, White says, there was "fury and dismay" and the feeling that "if they lost the election, Mrs. Chennault might have lost it for them."

When asked for comment Mrs. Chennault's secretary in Washington said Mrs. Chennault was in Asia.

Mrs. Chennault, widow of the wartime hero Gen. Claire Chennault and now an American citizen, had raised funds for the Nixon campaign and was chairman or co-chairman of several Nixon citizens committees.

She learned by gossip, rumor and speculation of the October halt, White says, and "she had undertaken most energetically to sabotage them."

He adds: "In contact with the Formosan, the South Korean and the South Vietnamese governments she had begun early, eraments she had begun early, by cable and telephone, to mobilize their resistance to the agreement—apparently implying, as she went, that she spoke for the Nixon campaign."

YOUR PERSONAL FINANCE

By CARLTON SMITH and RICHARD PUTNAM PRATT

If you are planning to move and tend to cry easily, the next few months may be a tough time for you. Summer is the peak period for moving from one home to another and friends and neighbors who undergo the experience are bound to fill your ears with tales of woe.

Anyone who moves seems to come away from the experience with a sad tale to tell. Some of the stories are positively heart-breaking.

The most heart-breaking of these are being repeated in Washington these days and are getting a sympathetic hearing from congressional committees and the Interstate Commerce Commission. There is pretty general agreement that the frequently shoddy treatment offered to the citizen on the move has deteriorated even further of late.

There's no guarantee that either the ICC or Congress is going to be able to make much of a dent in the practices of those who transport household goods. And even if they do, the effects are not apt to be felt for some time.

Meanwhile, if you have to move your family from one home to another, you'll have to do the best you can to defend yourself under current conditions. Here are a few tips you should find helpful:

• Pick a slow season. All other things being equal, the worst time to move is during the summer months, particularly in those weeks just before school begins.

Trying to move in the summer is like trying to get tickets for opening night. Everyone else is trying, too. This makes it hard to reserve the time you want, hard to deal with people already overworked and hard to get the move made efficiently when the company is short-handed.

There's no certainty that your move will be made more easily in January than in July, but the odds run that way.

• Discount estimates. There is great confusion about cost estimates in interstate moves. Inexperienced customers tend to regard them as bids, and often choose the firm that submits the lowest figure. Estimators, of course, know better, but do little to educate the customer since it may only lose them a contract.

The only purpose of the estimate is to provide you and the shipper with some idea of the size and cost of the shipment. Since all interstate carriers levy identical charges for shipping, based on the weight of the shipment, the figure is not a bid.

• Be adequately insured. While it is true that damage to your goods is only one of the many hazards you face when you hire a mover, it is the only one you can insure yourself against, so it's wise to do so. You can't, however, simply rely on the carrier's coverage.

His liability is limited to 60 cents per pound for items lost or damaged. This is fine if he loses one of your garbage cans, but for a six-pound radio it is ridiculous.

TO HONOR CHURCHILL

In the center of Westminster College campus, in Fulton, Missouri, is the Churchill Quadrangle, a complex of buildings for living and study. At the heart of this is America's largest memorial to Sir Winston: the restoration of the church of St. Mary Aldermanbury, from London.

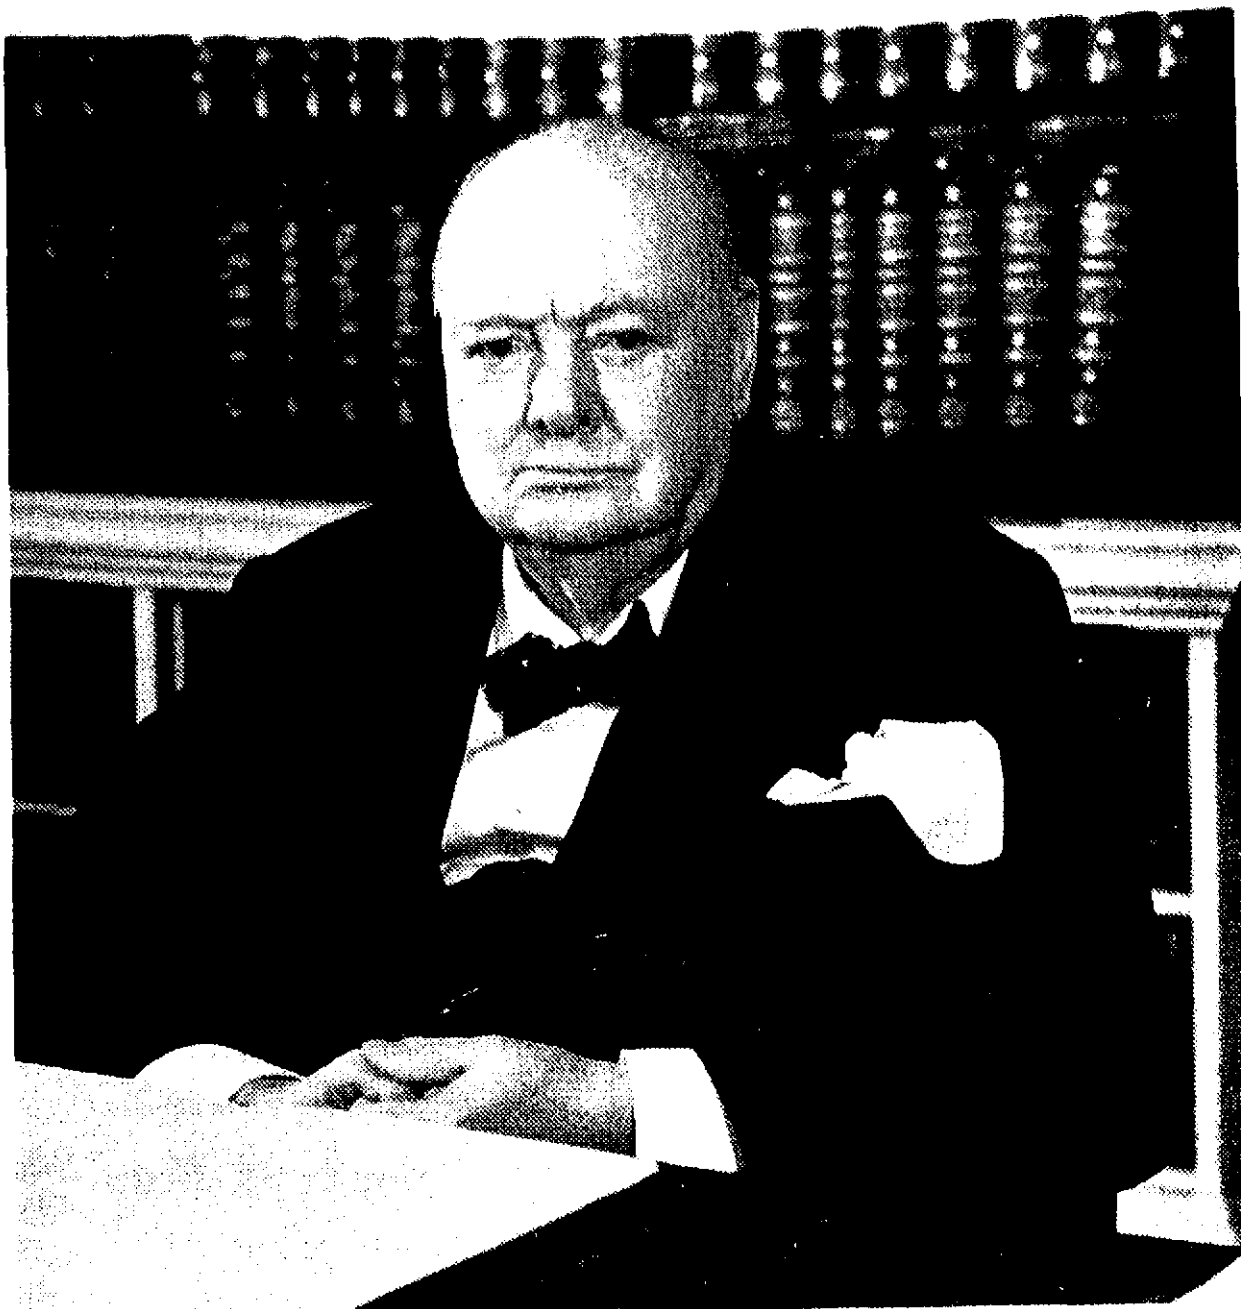

The most significant speech which Churchill made in America was delivered at the college in 1946. In it, his use for the first time of the term "Iron curtain" recognized, with dramatic insight, a new, post-war division of power. And it alerted the West to be on guard for the Cold War; he proposed an Anglo-American alliance to protect the western world from Soviet policies, out of which grew NATO.

The 17th century church of St. Mary Aldermanbury in London, built by Sir Christopher Wren, had been badly damaged during the World War II blitz. It has now been faithfully reconstructed on the Westminster campus, following the original design, and is ready to begin a new life as college chapel. There is also an underground gallery, museum and library, to house the collection of Churchill letters, photographs, books, manuscripts and paintings. The film collection is already the most complete in the world.

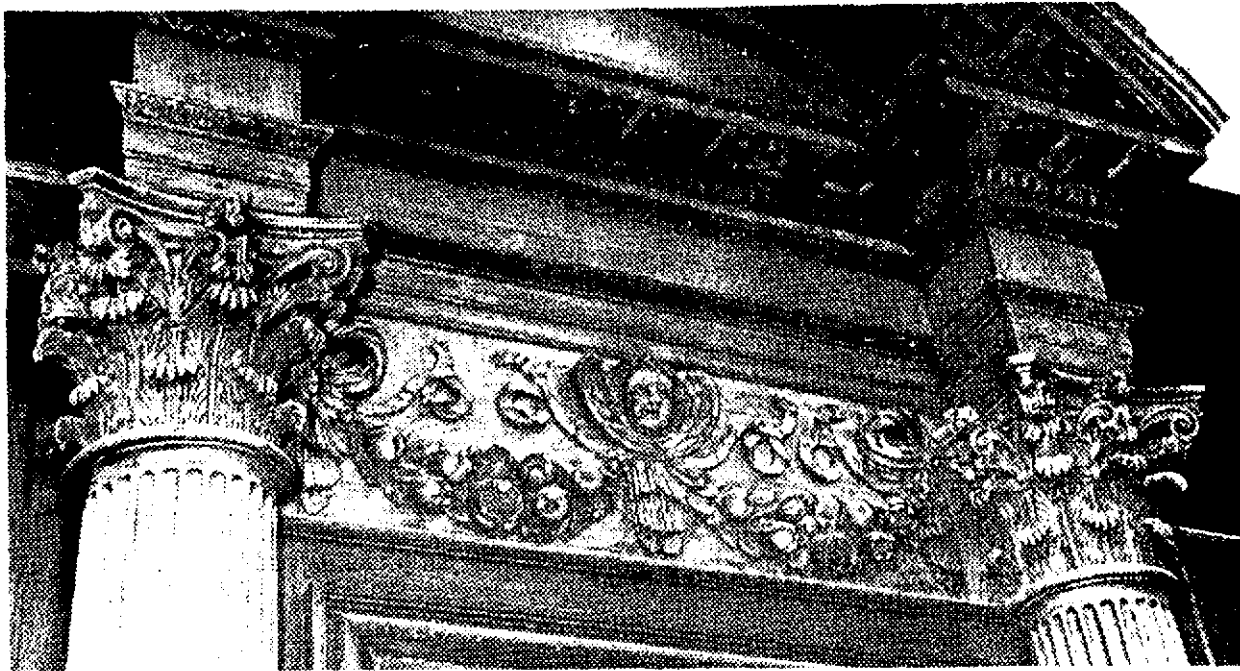

The church had been destined for destruction since it no longer served a parish in London. Now it will be at once America's newest and oldest church, open to all who wish to worship there.

Militants Have No Right to Interfere

DENVER (AP)—Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Monday that "a small militant minority" did not have the right to interfere with the educational pursuits of the majority.

Rockefeller told a news conference in Denver that he was happy there was no serious influx of activity in Arkansas by the Students for a Democratic Society.

"We governors must take the initiative to develop programs that will not tolerate the attitudes reflected by the activities of the SDS," he said.

Asked if this meant he would not tolerate any protests whatsoever, Rockefeller said he believed strongly in the right to dissent but that "dissent and militancy are completely different things."

Rockefeller is in Denver for the third annual meeting of the Education Commission of the States.

He moderated a panel discussion dealing with student unrest. Rep. Edith Green of Oregon participated.

Says Voting Rights Law Not Legal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., a loser four years ago in the Southern fight against a historic voting rights law, said today the act was unconstitutional and repressive and should not be extended.

The North Carolina Democrat's contention was challenged by Sen. Charles McNair, Mathias, R-Md., and NAACP official Clarence Mitchell, who said extension of the 1965 law is necessary to preserve voting rights gained by southern blacks.

The positions were taken in statements prepared for hearings opened today by the subcommittee on constitutional rights, headed by Ervin.

In attacking the 1965 act, Ervin also said he doesn't see any need for a substitute proposal by President Nixon, although the senator said the administration bill is less offensive than the older measure.

Mitchell said it may be that the 1965 law can be improved, but he added that before making any changes, Congress should extend "the law that we know does work."

Mitchell said his statement was presented on behalf of both the NAACP and the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights.

Mathias also called for straight-out extension of the 1965 law before Congress considers the administration measure, which would ban voter literacy tests in all 50 states instead of the seven southern states now covered.

A House judiciary subcommittee which held hearings earlier is expected Thursday to approve extending the 1965 act for five years beyond its Aug. 6, 1970, expiration date.

But Ervin's subcommittee is regarded as closely divided and the outcome is in doubt.

The current law suspends voter literacy tests and authorizes the use of federal registrars in Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Virginia and 39 counties in North Carolina.

In addition, the affected states are prohibited from having election law changes without the approval of the U.S. attorney general or of a federal court here.

The administration bill would wipe out this provision and substitute authority for the attorney general to seek federal court injunctions against state election laws he regards as discriminatory.

Thugs Are Using Stolen Equipment

BOSTON (AP) — The underworld is using stolen electronic equipment to monitor conversations of lawyers and government officials, the Boston Record American says.

The highly sophisticated equipment was stolen from Logan International Airport two years ago, the newspaper said today.

A telephone company technician discovered a monitoring device attached to the telephone of a criminal lawyer, who suspected his conversations were being bugged and asked the company to investigate, the newspaper said.

Says Grave Digging Was Political

DERMOTT, Ark. (AP)—State Sen. John F. Gibson of Dermott said Tuesday that former Prison Supt. Thomas O. Murton had testified before a U.S. Senate subcommittee that the prison grave digging incident was a "political conspiracy."

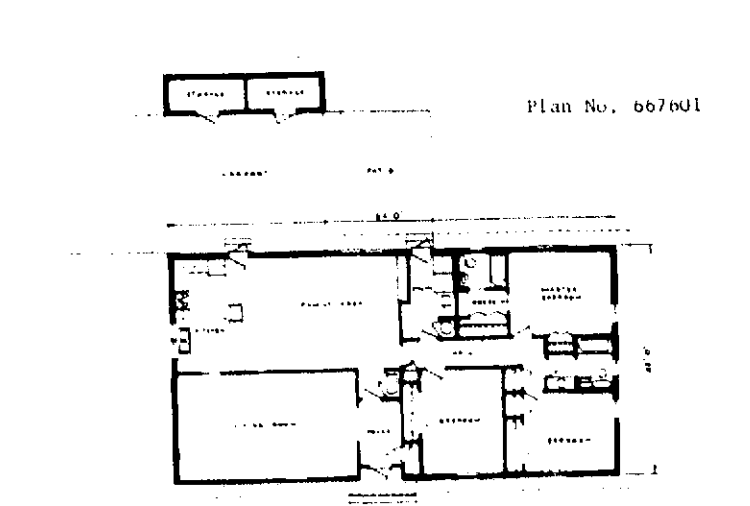

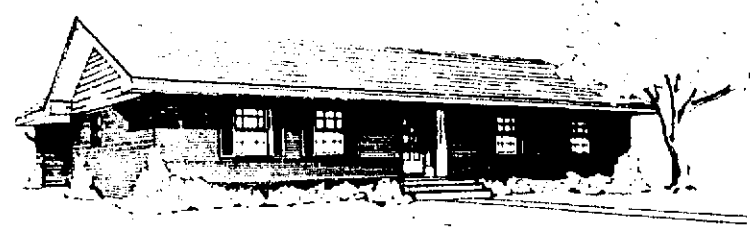

Gibson said that Murton's testimony earlier this year before a subcommittee headed by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., was that digging for bodies had been planned for a year and was to be completed before last year's election to discredit the prison's reputation as a model system and the only self-supporting one in the country.

Gibson, who is chairman of the state Senate Penitentiary Committee, said the testimony was contained in a transcript of Murton's controversial appearance before the subcommittee.

Murton was fired shortly after three skeletons were unearthed at Cummins Prison Farm in early 1968. There were allegations that the skeletons were those of inmates who had been murdered and were buried in a clandestine cemetery with other slain convicts.

Gibson said in a speech to a Dermott civic club that as a result of the incident "every citizen in Arkansas has been indicted as being sadistic and brutal."

A pathologist's report of an examination of the skeletons said that the inmates probably died of natural causes.

Pointer Takes Stand, Denies Embezzlement

PIE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Former Pine Bluff City Collector John Pointer Jr. took the stand Tuesday to testify in his own behalf in his embezzlement trial and denied that he had ever taken any city money.

Pointer also said he had not signed any of the receipts or filled out any of the deposit slips on which the prosecution is basing its case.

He told the court that he spent most of his time outside his office collecting city occupation taxes and that other employees in the office did most of the bookkeeping work.

Pointer is charged with embezzling $32,473 in a period from Jan. 1, 1966, to May 10, 1968. He was relieved of his duties in May 1968.

Replying to prosecution testimony that recaptured occupation tax revenues had declined between 1965 and 1966 and had failed to increase significantly in 1965 despite an increase in the schedule, Pointer said that revenues were down in 1966 because numerous businesses went out of business.

Prosecution witnesses also had testified earlier that Pointer kept on hand numerous checks made in payment of occupation taxes. Edwin Woller, man of Pine Bluff, a certified public accountant, had testified that such checks had been substituted for cash on deposit slips and the cash was withdrawn.

Pointer said he kept a number of checks in his office safe because his superiors required him to exceed every month the collections of the corresponding months in the previous year. He said checks received in one month often were held over until the following month so he could meet his quota.

A number of defense witnesses testified that Pointer was at a deer camp south of Pine Bluff during periods in 1966 and 1967 when cash withdrawals allegedly were made illegally from the collector's office.

WHEELING

By BOB COCHNAR
NEA Automotive Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—A man is known by the car he drives" is an old saying I just made up. It probably has as much truth associated with it as Polonius' apparel that "off proclaims the man."

On the other hand, "You can't tell a book by its cover" is another old saying composed, Bartlett's says, by a Mr. Anon. But for the purposes of this column, please accept my old saying as a truism.

A wire service correspondent, just up from Cuba, tells me that Fidel Castro favors a dark maroon Alfa-Romeo sedan. He maintains three of them and Castro-watchers say they travel in a pack with Fidel always in the center car. Guess which automobile is Cuba's ultimate status symbol?

Incidentally, in Cuba the word "Leyland" is synonymous with "reliability." Seems that the Cubans had ordered Czech and Hungarian buses which promptly fell apart after several hundred miles on the country's non-roads. Several years ago the Cubans ordered a number of buses built by Leyland, the British firm, and they are still going strong. Wonder if Leyland can use that as an endorsement?

But back to the subject. When I met King Hussein of Jordan several years ago, he was driving—and racing—Porsches which, his garage master said, were his favorite automobiles. He may now be driving Patton tanks, under the current circumstances in the Middle East.

Charles, the newly crowned Prince of Wales, tools about the Welsh countryside in a blue MBG-GT. Alan King, the comedian, owns a custom-built Rolls-Royce based on a 1935 model. Actor Steve McQueen owns a number of sports cars but favors his D-type Jaguar and 275-GTB Ferrari. Paul Newman drives a Volkswagen with a Porsche engine (this is probably very meaningful).

Charles de Gaulle used to be driven around in a jet-black Citroen. President Nixon's official car is a bubble-top Lincoln Continental. Lyndon Johnson still rides the Texas plains in his Continental convertible. New Jersey Assemblyman Harold Hollenbeck owns a Corvette.

Finally, in perhaps the ultimate measure of auto status, a research firm surveyed a sampling of Playboy readers and other people to determine the auto purchasing habits of the two groups. Although the survey may or may not be representative, it did point out that the Playboy reader's favorite 1969 car is a Mercury Cougar hardtop with automatic transmission, while wall tires, power brakes and steering and a vinyl roof.

The other group (which includes Playboy readers) preferred, interestingly, the same car. All of which proves not very much.

As for the No. 2 Playboy favorite, it's a Mustang. The general group buys more Plymouth Furies than Mustangs, but the hardtop is still the preferred model.

Frankly, the survey is somewhat confusing. For example, the researchers determined that among the Mercury Cougar buyers, Time was the favorite magazine (Playboy was third) but Mustang, Pontiac Grand Prix, Ford Torino, and Firebird buyers prefer Playboy.

The favorite magazine among all the car buyers sampled? Reader's Digest.

naturally. In fact, owners of 15 different makes prefer the Digest 11 to 1 over any other magazine. You can draw any conclusion you like from that.

People are always asking me what car I drive, assuming the automobile owned by an automobile writer ought to be the best thing going. My answer is disappointing since I try to drive all of them and, at the same time, own one of them. And I haven't owned a car in five years, a fact which tends to keep me out of trouble with the manufacturers.

It may comfort them to know that when I did own cars, they generally were oddballs like Nashes, Toyotas, Singers, Studebakers, Hudsons and, believe it or not, LaSalles.

Serendipity
Serendipity is the faculty of making happy and unexpected discoveries by accident. The word was coined by Horace Walpole, who based it on an old fairy tale, "The Three Princes of Serendip." They had the faculty of always making discoveries of things for which they were not searching.

Lowest recorded temperature at the North Pole was 66 degrees below zero.

HOPE NEWSPAPER HISTORY:
The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1875.
1899 — Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude McCorkle; converted to an evening daily by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.
The opposition line:
1880 — Hope News founded by Lowry Brothers.
1883 — Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.
1883 — Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury.
1884 — Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by Betts, J.L. Tullis, and Col. W.W. Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.
1916 — Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald — but both papers suspended in 1922.
1926 — Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly Hempstead County Review.
1927 — Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.
1929 — C. E. Palmer and A.H. Washburn consolidated The Star and the Press as Hope Star, with Palmer as president and Washburn secretary-treasurer.
1957 — Following Mr. Palmer's death Mrs. Palmer became president.
1969 — With Mrs. Palmer's retirement from Star Publishing Co. Washburn became 76 per cent owner and president — balance 24 per cent being held by Texarkana Newspapers, Inc.

The Unnecessary Safety Play

By Oswald & James Jacoby

A little learning is a dangerous thing. Browse through a medical journal and you may find yourself with symptoms of several fatal diseases. Read a little law and, as an amateur lawyer, you may get into a lot of trouble.

A slight knowledge of safety plays may do the same to a bridge player who refuses to leave this knowledge with some grains of common sense.

South won the first trick with the ace of hearts and counted one heart loser and one diamond loser. He could afford to lose one trump trick.

South had been reading up on safety plays and knew that there was a standard play to guard against the loss of two trump tricks. He led his three of spades and played dummy's seven on West's five. This play protected him against four spades in the West hand. That was roughly a 5 per cent chance.

It did not protect him against all sorts of 2-2 and 3-1 trump breaks combined with a 3-1 break in diamonds.

Of course, it took good defense to punish South for his unsafety play but that good defense was forthcoming.

East was in then with the jack of spades. He didn't have too much of a problem. His ace of diamonds was only going to take one trick, no matter when it was played, so he led it.

Then he put West in with a heart. West thought awhile but he was merely wasting time. He was surely going to lead a diamond and, when he did, East ruffed and another game had been lost, strayed or stolen.

War Deaths Lowest Since Last April

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. battle deaths in Vietnam dropped last week to the lowest level since late April, giving apparent support to President Nixon's position that casualties rise and fall with the level of enemy attacks.

Although official figures are not yet final, sources say the toll for the week ending July 4 probably will be down generally close to the 163 Americans killed in action in the week ending April 26, the last time there was a lull in the fighting.

The cause of U.S. casualties has been a matter of growing controversy, with some critics contending U.S. battlefield initiatives bring about high losses.

Nixon told a news conference June 19, "Our casualties are in direct ratio to the level of enemy attacks."

Insisting U.S. forces have not escalated their operations, the President said "We have only responded to what the enemy has done."

Strategists still are puzzling over the significance of the lack of enemy ground operations.

The last lull continued about two weeks before enemy assaults swung upward abruptly in mid-May, bringing U.S. combat killed to 430 in the week ending May 17.

The peak week for 1969 saw 453 names added to the killed in action roster in the final week of February, and the enemy's post-Tet offensive. This followed immediately a pull which carried U.S. battle deaths down to 164 in the week ending February 22.

Thus, at the low point of two previous lulls in enemy attacks this year, American battle deaths settled down to about 163-164, and indications are that roughly this happened again in late June-early July.

The six-month toll in 1969 stands close to 6,500 — about 3,000 fewer than the first six months of 1968, which included the great enemy Tet offensive.

Since then, the enemy and the United States have pursued "talk and fight" strategies.

In the 14 months since the Paris peace talks got going, about 14,000 American servicemen have died in combat.

China, Russia Are Blaming Each Other

TOKYO (AP) — Soviet and Chinese Communists are blaming each other for the latest Manchurian border clash on a river island, but so far there has been no mention of Chinese casualties.

The Soviet protest note said Chinese troops armed with sub-machine guns, grenade launchers and hand grenades killed one Russian river worker and injured three Tuesday "in the Soviet part of the Goldinsky Island on the Amur River."

Peking also lodged a protest, saying the Russians landed frontier troops on the island, sent in gunboats and planes, and burned down Chinese civilian homes.

Goldinsky or Pacha as the Chinese call the island, is located about 40 miles west of the Soviet city of Khabarovsk, where a Sino-Soviet commission has been meeting since June 18 to discuss problems of navigation on border rivers.

The island is slightly west of the confluence of the Amur and Ussuri rivers. Soviet and Chinese troops fought two bloody battles on a disputed island on the Ussuri in March.

Canning Co. 'Okay' Says Inspector

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—A witness for Steele Canning Co. of Springfield, Ark., whose products allegedly included rodent parts and other foreign matter, testified Tuesday that it appeared that the firm was operating within federal tolerances.

Loren Gibson, a retired federal inspector, was called by Steele in the second hearing on an Ohio Department of Agriculture suit seeking an injunction to ban the sale of the company's products in Ohio.

Gibson said Steele's products appeared to be within federal canned food tolerances when he inspected them.

Dr. David Hill, head of Ohio's division of food and drugs, testified that an investigation had turned up one insect and pieces of grass in Steele products.

George A. Masters supervisor of inspections for the food and drug division, said Ohio statutes permitted no tolerance in food purity.

The suit was filed by Ohio officials April 3 after an investigation started by a Lorain, Ohio, woman's complaint that she found rodent parts in a can of Steele vegetable products.

Lorain County Common Pleas Judge John D. Pincura continued the case and set Sept. 3 for the next hearing.

Democratic Leaders Appear to Have Votes for Surtax Extension

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders today appeared to have the votes in the Senate Finance Committee to overcome presidential objections and tie tax reform to extension of the income surtax.

If the two issues are intertwined, final congressional action on the surtax could be delayed until fall, President Nixon has said quick action on the surtax alone is necessary to his anti-inflation fight.

The committee continued its hearing today to extend the surtax until next June 30 by calling in several witnesses who oppose repeal of the 7 per cent investment credit, which was one tax reform the House did attach when it approved the continuance.

Of the 10 Democrats on the committee, only Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota had said he might be willing to support quick action on the surtax bill and leave tax reform until a second measure.

But the other nine Democrats seemed ready to follow the strategy of their Senate leaders. This would mean a 9-8 margin for taking up reform along with the surtax extension, assuming that all seven Republican committee members support the administration position.

The senior Republican on the panel, John J. Williams of Delaware, has a number of reform amendments he intends to push either on the surtax legislation or a second measure. He said he has not decided which strategy to follow.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, Democratic Whip Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts and many other Democrats are demanding changes in the tax system to insure that everyone pays his fair share before they will be willing to accept a continuance of the surtax.

Depositors to Get Some Money Back

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Paul X. Williams approved Tuesday a plan for partial distribution of depositor accounts of People's Loan & Investment Co.

Under the plan by Larry McCord, court-appointed trustee of the firm, 685 depositors with balances of $50 or less would be paid in full and other depositors would be paid 20 per cent of their balances.

McCord told Williams that PL&I had 3,200 depositors with aggregate deposits of about $7.2 million. He said payments totaling $1,535,903 were expected to be made by late September or early October.

McCord said the plan wouldn't affect the possible reorganization of PL&I.

The firm has been collecting payments on mortgages it holds, but hasn't accepted deposits or allowed withdrawals since it was placed in receivership by the courts.

Nixon Orders Pullout of 15,000 More

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon ordered today the withdrawal of nearly 15,000 U.S. military men from overseas bases in the next year — but not from Vietnam or other trouble spots.

The specific areas from which the men will be taken were not announced.

The White House said 14,900 men would be brought home during the coming 12 months "in the interests of lessening budget and balance of payments costs and of reducing the American presence overseas."

The cutbacks, to be supplemented by a reduction of approximately 5,100 civilian employees abroad, could lead to an eventual balance of payments savings of $75 million a year, it was said.

Civilian cutbacks will be carried out throughout the world, including a reduction of more than 10 per cent in federal civilian employees in South Vietnam.

The military reductions, however, will not apply to forces in Vietnam, South Korea, Berlin, those sections of Southeast Asia where they operate in support of military operations, or to forces committed to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Iress secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said that about 850,000 of the approximately one million U.S. military men now serving abroad would be covered by the exemptions.

Heat Wave in El Dorado Is Costly

EL DORADO, ARK. (AP) — Air conditioners and ice are at a premium in El Dorado, where residents have melted in 100-degree or above temperatures for 13 of the last 14 days.

Dealers report that they are out of air conditioners and can't get more from distributors and ice plants say persons who normally wouldn't buy ice are purchasing it faster than the plants can package it.

Authorities are also fearful of a drought damaging pastures and crops. In addition, grass and timber fires are beginning to plague the area.

Suit Claiming Discrimination Dismissed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A suit claiming that the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. had discriminated against Negroes in its hiring practices has been dismissed by U.S. District Court Judge J. Smith Henley.

Arthur Ray Parham of Little Rock, now a ministerial student at Philander Smith College here, filed the suit, seeking damages for the period between the time his application was turned down and the date he finally was offered employment as a lineman, a job that Parham declined.

Henley said in his ruling Tuesday that it would be nothing but speculation to say that Parham, if he had been white, would have been hired and "to conclude on that basis that his application was rejected on the basis of race."

U.S. May Sue School Board in Chicago

By WILLIAM BARTON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government threatened today to bring a school desegregation suit against the Chicago Board of Education unless steps are taken toward faculty integration in the nation's second largest school system.

The Justice Department notified the Chicago board it had concluded, after an extensive examination of the city's school policies, that present faculty assignment transfers procedures deny equal protection of the laws to Negro pupils.

Any suit against Chicago would be the government's largest single desegregation action since passage of the 1964 Civil Rights Act. The largest city now under a court order is Houston, Tex.

In a letter to Board President Frank M. Whiston, Asst. Atty. Gen. Jerris Leonard said the department is providing school officials "with an opportunity to take appropriate steps to eliminate voluntarily the racially discriminatory practices we found in the operation of the school system."

The department investigation, Leonard said, "compels the conclusion that the school system's practices with respect to the assignment and transfer of faculty and staff members has had the effect of denying to Negro students in the Chicago public schools the equal protection of the laws."

The letter said 215 of Chicago's 578 elementary, junior and senior high schools have all-white or all-Negro faculties.

In addition, the letter said, 93 per cent of the Negro elementary and junior high teachers were assigned to schools where Negro youngsters comprised 90 to 100 per cent of the enrollment.

Only three per cent of the Negro elementary and junior high teachers were assigned to schools that had more than a 50 per cent white enrollment, Leonard said.

The department contended that residential patterns alone cannot account for similarity between racial compositions of student bodies and faculties.

This pattern, Leonard said, "persists in many cases where white and Negro schools are less than a mile apart."

Moreover, the department contended its examination shows "all-Negro and predominantly Negro schools generally are assigned a disproportionate number of new, inexperienced, less educated and noncertificated teachers."

The Nixon administration indicated Tuesday it will challenge some arrangements allowing Catholic and public school systems in several northern cities to share facilities.

Neither Nixon or his aides learned of the actions until later he says. The cost of food continues to climb and the government says there is no sign of any relief for the consumer.

Paratroopers Walk Into Cong Ambush

By GEORGE ESBER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — American paratroopers walked into a Viet Cong ambush 50 miles south of Da Nang and lost nine men killed and seven wounded in a day-long battle that followed, U.S. headquarters reported today.

The ambush occurred shortly after noon Tuesday. A spokesman said about 150 Viet Cong deeply entrenched in bunkers near a jungle trail waited for a detachment of the 101st Airborne Division to walk into the "kill zone," then opened fire with machine guns and rifles.

"The enemy small arms and automatic weapons fire was returned immediately by the troopers, who were supported by an Air Force gunship, artillery and tactical air strikes," said the spokesman. He added that contact continued for about seven hours until nightfall.

Only two bodies of Viet Cong soldiers were found.

Elsewhere, light rocket attacks persisted and the U.S. Command reported 77 enemy troops were slain in eight small fights from the Mekong Delta to the demilitarized zone. U.S. casualties were one killed and six wounded.

Spokesmen said the actions were not significant enough to be considered a break in the Vietnam war's current three-week lull. But they reported movement of enemy troops in small groups, similar to the pattern that ended similar lulls in February, May and June.

"One of the indicators in the past of increased enemy activity is when he starts to move in small groups," said the U.S. Command spokesman. "Prior to a very active enemy period . . . you run into him and make more contact."

He said it is too soon to tell if the enemy is gearing for another series of heavy attacks, but noted the enemy seems to be "advertising he will have a series of highpoints."

The U.S. Command reported the loss of two more helicopters to enemy ground fire Tuesday — an Army OH-1A downed 16 miles northwest of Saigon, killing the four Americans aboard.

Water Issue Is Problem to City Board

The Board of City Directors, at their meeting last night, approved a petition from resident property owners on Hilltop Drive to create an Improvement District for the purpose of paving Hilltop Drive from Highway 4 to 9th Street. Property owners tried last year to get a voluntary agreement from all the owners but were unable to secure an agreement from all the owners. A majority of the owners can, by creating a district, have the paving done and the cost assessed against the adjoining properties. A public hearing on the petition will be held at 7:30 p.m. on July 22nd in the Municipal Court room.

The Board of Directors also passed a Resolution agreeing to pave Edgewood Street from 16th to 13th Street, complete with curb and gutter, conditioned on the property owners paying for the curb. They also passed a Resolution to backstop Berry Street from North Hazel to Graham Street and North Bell Street from Greenwood Street (Old Highway 67) to Oak Street. If a majority of property owners petition the City to do the work, paving districts will be created to cover the work. The latter project calls for a black top street without curb and gutter. The City has for two or three years been offering to black top block where the property owners would put up 75¢ per front foot to cover part of the cost.

The Board passed an ordinance authorizing the Mayor to ration the use of water during See WATER ISSUE (on page two)

TV NOTEBOOK

By JOAN CROSBY

NEA Entertainment Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The sudden success of a rugged-looking young gentleman from Wales named Tom Jones, due to his weekly exposure on ABC-TV and his best-selling recordings, has done absolutely nothing to change the manner or outlook of the singer.

"I knew the success had to come some time, some way," he said. "It had happened in Europe. I figured it would happen here and thought it would be through either TV or films."

He looks as strong as a Welsh hillock, is much handsomer than any picture he has even had taken, has a warm smile and a magnificent set of teeth. His speaking voice is husky and musical with the Welsh lilt that is so appealing.

A few years ago, Tom appeared at a New York night club, was known through his recordings and did decent business after getting good reviews. Just recently he appeared in another club where every night was a riot-time and he looked-at-me-I-think-I'm-going-to-faint time.

The ladies wouldn't leave him alone.

He attributes it all to television: "It's more powerful than films. You're on every week. With films, in order to have impact, you have to keep making hits."

His appeal is broad, from young adults through those on the dark side of the generation gap. "I don't have a big teen-age following. If you appeal to adults, you have something more real. What is my appeal? I'm a singer. People like the way I sing."

Ask Tom to use three words to describe himself and he says, "First, I'm male, and you don't doubt it for a minute. I don't believe what's good for the goose is also good for the gander. A man should lead and a woman should follow. If he's the right man, she wants to follow. Then I'm a singer. I love to sing more than anything else. Finally, I'm British and proud of it."

When Millette Alexander is seen by several million people each day on the soap opera, Guiding Light, it's about as alone as she ever gets.

Millette is married to James Hammerstein (the son of lyricist Oscar Hammerstein) and lives in a house that includes 28 bodies, counting six dogs and seven cats.

Crisis is just a normal, everyday word for this humorous, bright, pretty actress. She and Jimmy are the parents of four children. The household help consists of a family of nine, which includes an elderly grandmother and five children.

"When I go to the supermarket," she laughs, "they see me coming and assign two clerks just to help me."

Her children all play electric instruments. "You drive down the highway and you can see the house reverberate. If I were to ask for one thing in life, it would be a little quiet. The cameras and lights and confusion in a TV studio are nothing compared to what I have at home."

The house Millette lives in is in upstate New York, about an hour's drive from the city. It's on a hill overlooking the Hudson River and was built by noted architect Stanford White for a hunting lodge.

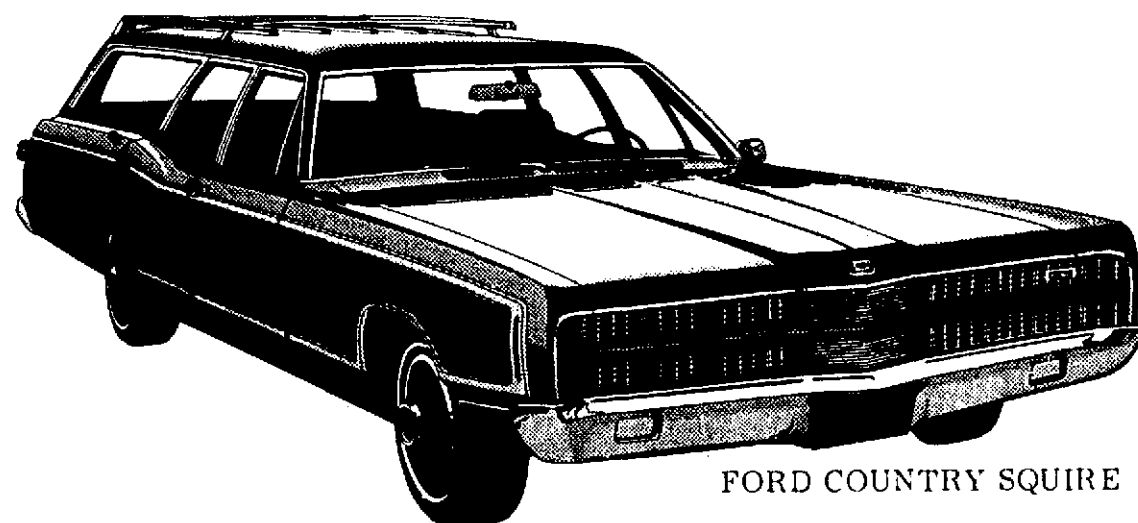

In her spare time (and the wonder is that Millette can find any), she copies works of art in needlepoint.
